About Workplace Training Solutions

In a climate where companies are reaching higher, expanding wider and moving faster than ever before, it's crucial that your employees stay ahead. Technology is constantly evolving, approaches are shifting and techniques are changing.

Corporate Packages

We have the content and facilitators available to transform any of our online short courses or modules into a tightly-packed face-to-face learning experience.

Customised Content

Our customised training approach allows us to tailor-make a business training solution to meet the unique needs of your company. Our industry and subject matter experts create your training package, in line with your corporate objectives and environment.

Customised training doesn't necessarily mean we reinvent the wheel every time. It's a combination of industry-trusted curricula, the generation of new material where relevant, and the unique application of both.

In order to stay on top of your game, ongoing workplace learning is vital, for you and your team. But a one-size-fits-all approach doesn't work. With industries becoming more and more specialised, corporate training needs to follow suit.

Existing Corporate Programmes

A comprehensive range of corporate programmes specialising in Marketing and Advertising, Supply Chain and Export Trade Management, and Business Management.

Bespoke Programme Development and Design

The ultimate customisation of programmes designed around specific business requirements and the facilitation thereof.

Annual Packages

We have developed a pricing model that allows you the flexibility to train when you need to.
